Durham Home Show will be taking place at the McKinney Centre in Whitby on April 20, 21 and 22.

This annual spring show, organized by John Leonard and Fred Pellegrino, has been bringing local home improvement businesses and consumers together since 2005.

The Durham Home Show gives you the opportunity to take a couple of hours to discover the local businesses that offer the products and services that you are looking for. You can speak to representatives of the company, often the owner, to get more information about the products and services you are interested in, get quotes and have your questions answered.

You don't have to head downtown or west of Toronto to go to a home show, when there's a fantastic one right in your backyard. The best part is that all of the vendors you will meet are local companies that are based in and/or work in your neighbourhood. The advantages to shopping local are numerous. Not only are you keeping money in the local economy, benefiting your friends, neighbours and the community at large, but there's also comfort in knowing that your service providers are located just down the road or one township over.

companies in action.

Whether you are looking for inspiration for your next home project or have something specific in mind, you will find what you are looking for at the show.

Exterior projects typically have two main goals - to improve your home's curb appeal and your overall enjoyment of the property. The Durham Home Show will feature many exhibitors whose business it is to improve your outdoor living, such as landscapers, pool companies, roofing companies, arborists, concrete specialists, and
